I bring with me a strategic mindset forged through years of cross-border experience in business development, financial analysis, and commercial operations—anchored in data-driven decision-making, multicultural adaptability, and result-oriented execution.

With a foundation in international business and finance, I have continuously contributed to organizational growth across European and Gulf markets. My experience spans both the corporate and entrepreneurial spheres, allowing me to merge structured analysis with on-the-ground agility.

Throughout my career, I have built a reputation for transforming opportunities into operational results. My approach is grounded in identifying underutilized assets, strengthening partner relationships, and driving forward sustainable business models that align with both short-term KPIs and long-term strategy.

SOTIROPOULOS GEORGIOS

Currently engaged with Wild Greyhound, I support the company's expansion efforts by providing oversight in business strategy, financial oversight, and market penetration initiatives—applying a global lens to local challenges. I play a pivotal role in aligning fiscal integrity with growth objectives, ensuring that every decision is informed, ethical, and scalable.

Professionally, My academic background includes specialized education in international economics, commerce, and finance. Coupled with hands-on experience in investment processes, negotiations, and stakeholder engagement, I bring both theory and practice into alignment to navigate dynamic commercial landscapes.

Fluent in English and Greek, with working knowledge of Arabic, I operate comfortably across cultures and regulatory environments. My communication style is direct yet diplomatic—enabling me to build trust in boardrooms, on the ground, and across digital platforms. I am known for being meticulous in financial detail while remaining strategic in vision.

Beyond the boardroom, I value intellectual curiosity and cultural immersion. Whether exploring regional markets, studying economic history, or engaging in global discourse, I remain committed to lifelong learning and purpose-driven leadership.

“Business is not merely about numbers its about navigating complexity with clarity, aligning intent with impact, and leading with ethical intelligence”

This Philosophy shapes my role as a cross - functional leader analytical, visionary, and unafraid to challenge convention in pursuit of excellence.
